Ways to join

Join THE global dialogue on changing transport, boost your knowledge and gain new impulses for cooperation.

The Transport and Climate Change Week is a unique capacity building opportunity for government officials from around the globe. Internationally renowned experts on sustainable mobility deliver trainings and are available for in-depth discussions. The specific peer learning approach puts exchange of practitioners at the heart of the event.

The upcoming 5th edition will consist of regional trainings in Africa, Asia, South-East Europe and Latin America. A hybrid conference in Berlin will take up the results of regional hubs and connect participants worldwide.

Side events offer the opportunity for BMUV and GIZ's cooperation partners to disseminate their work at global scale.

Together we are paving the way to net zero mobility!
